

Library Collections and Services

The University of Pittsburgh libraries and collections provide an abundant amount of information and services to the faculty, students, staff, administrators, and researchers of the University. In fiscal year 2000, the University's collections surpassed 4.1 million volumes, had nearly 4.1 million pieces of microforms, had more than 24,000 print subscriptions and had more than 4,400 electronic journals.

The University Library System (ULS) includes the following libraries and collections: Hillman (main), African-American, Buhl (social work), East Asian, Special Collections, Government Documents, Allegheny Observatory, Archives Service Center, Center for American Music, Chemistry, Computer Science, Darlington Memorial (American history), Engineering, Fine Arts, Information Sciences, Katz Graduate School of Business, Langley (biological sciences, behavioral neuroscience, psychology), Mathematics, Music, Physics, and Public and International Affairs/Economics. ULS also maintains an off-campus book storage depository at the University of Pittsburgh Applied Research Center (UPARC).

The Hillman Library is the largest library facility with seating for 1,530 users. It offers an open stack arrangement and an extensive range of library services. In addition to the main collection, which is comprised primarily of humanities and social sciences subject areas, the Hillman Library is comprised of five other libraries and collections, maps, national and international newspapers, and microform facilities.

The Health Sciences Library System (HSL) provides collections and services to meet the information needs of the educational, clinical, and research programs of the Schools of Medicine, Dental Medicine, Pharmacy, Health and Rehabilitation Sciences, Nursing, and the Graduate School of Public Health, as well as the hospitals of the UPMC Health System. The HSL includes Falk Library of the Health Sciences and the Western Psychiatric Institute and Clinic Library. The Computer and Media Center (CMC) in Falk Library is the primary health sciences facility and service point for audiovisual and microcomputer resources. HSL Online (<http://www.hsls.pitt.edu>) is the gateway to extensive electronic resources for clinical and research needs.

The other University libraries include the Barco Law Library, and those libraries located at each of the four regional campuses: Johnstown, Greensburg, Titusville, and Bradford.

PITTCAT is the University of Pittsburgh's on-line library catalog, offering author, title, subject, and keyword access to materials in all University libraries. PITTCAT currently contains bibliographic holdings and circulation information for more than four million titles, representing most of the book and periodical collections in all University libraries. In addition, the University's libraries provide access to many remote resources for University of Pittsburgh faculty, students, and staff, including: Encyclopedia Britannica, netLibrary, EBSCOhost, IAC SearchBank, CIS Compass, Web of Science, MUSE, JSTOR, Science Direct and numerous other electronic journals. PITTCAT and other databases are available through the ULS website at <http://www.library.pitt.edu>.

The University of Pittsburgh is a member of the Association of Research Libraries. Through membership in several

Pennsylvania consortia of libraries (PALCI, PALINET, and the Oakland Library Consortium), cooperative borrowing arrangements have been developed with other Pennsylvania institutions. Locations of University libraries and collections are as follows:
