Notes: In Fall Term 2020, the university offered a voluntary retirement package for faculty and there was a salary freeze due to the COVID-19 pandemic.

The University of Pittsburgh annually reports specifically-defined faculty salaries data to the American Association of University Professors (AAUP) via the AAUP's annual Faculty Compensation Survey. To be included in this survey, the AAUP considers each individual faculty member's instructional effort. Since the 2015-16 survey, hence reflected in the data shown for each of these fall terms, the AAUP has broadly defined instructional effort in such manner that if a faculty member has any level of instructional effort, they are included in the survey. With regard to categorizing faculty by rank, note that beginning with the 2017-18 survey, hence reflected in the Fall Term 2017, 2018, 2019 and 2020 data, visiting faculty in the ranks of Professor, Associate Professor, and Assistant Professor are reported as Instructor.
